Geopolitical Shifts in the Black Sea Region and Europe's Energy Future

By Dr Tunç Aybak

Source: Le Monde Diplomatique

Since the end of the Cold War the Black Sea region has been up for grabs as a transportation funnel and exploitation of new energy resources. First as East-West energy corridor with criss crossing pipelines and later as the new energy hub and resource frontier.

Russia's war against Ukraine has further increased the importance of the Black Sea. Russia's war against Ukraine and the blockade of Ukrainian ports in the Black Sea, this region is gaining geopolitical and geo-economic importance.

This talk will briefly explore these issues and the geopolitical implication for the regional and global geopolitics of energy.

ALL WELCOME!
